

LEGAL NOTICE

PURPOSE

The provider, and website manager, offers users this document which aims to fulfil all obligations envisaged in Law 34/2002, on E-Commerce and Information Society Services (LSSI-CE), and to inform website users regarding the conditions of use pertaining to this website.

Any person accessing this website assumes the role of the user and hereby commits to observe and rigorously fulfil the terms envisaged herein, alongside any other applicable legal disposition.

The provider reserves the right to modify information on the website, without being required to inform users or to give users prior notice. Publication on the provider's website will suffice.

LIABILITY

The provider is hereby released from any liability derived from information published on the website, on the condition that the information has been processed or entered by a third party.

The website provider can use cookies (small data files that the server sends to the user's computer when they access the website) to perform specific tasks that are essential to ensure the correct operation and visualization of the website. The cookies used on the website are temporary and exist only to make their further communication smoother. They will be deleted when the user logs out. Cookies will never be used to garner personal information.

The client may access content on other websites by means of the website. Since the provider cannot always control the contents introduced by third parties on these websites, the provider cannot be held accountable for the information that appears in said contents. The provider hereby states that any content that contravenes national or international legislation, or moral or public order will be immediately removed from the website. Furthermore, all links to said website will be removed immediately and the authorities will be informed of the content in question.

The provider cannot be held accountable for information and content stored in, including but not limited to, message boards, chats, blogs, comments, social networks or any other resource that allows third parties to publish contents independently on the provider's website. However, in compliance with the terms envisaged in Art. 11 and 16 of the LSSI-CE, the provider will be available for users, authorities and law enforcement agencies, and will collaborate actively to remove and block contents that may affect or contravene national or international regulations, rights or moral and public order. If users should consider that the website features contents that fall under this classification, they are encouraged to notify the website administrator immediately.

The website has been revised and tested to ensure correct functioning. In principle, the website will be operative 365 days a year 24 hours a day. However, the provider does not discard certain programming errors or force majeure, such as natural catastrophes, strikes or similar circumstances, which may prevent access to the website.

PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

The provider is firmly committed to the compliance of Spanish regulations on the protection of personal data, and hereby guarantees the thorough implementation of obligations therein contained, as well as of security measures established in Art. 9 of Organic Law 15/1999 on the Protection of Personal Data (LOPD) and the Enforcement Decree of the LOPD.

The provider makes the corporate Privacy Policy available to users and hereby informs users of the following aspects:

- Information on the Data Handler.
- Data processed.
- File where data is stored.
- Purpose of the data handling.
- Mandatory nature of the data, and consequences of not providing mandatory data.
- User rights and how to exercise them.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

The website, including but not limited to the programming, editing, compilation and other elements required to ensure correct function, design, logos, text and images are either owned by the provider or the provider is in possession of a license or authorisation from the authors. All website content is duly protected by the legislation pertaining to Intellectual Property, and entered into the corresponding public registers.

Regardless of the purpose for which they were used, the total or partial reproduction, use, distribution and commercialisation requires express authorisation in writing from the provider. The unauthorized use will be considered a serious breach of the author's intellectual property rights.

The designs, logos, text and /or images not owned by the provider that appear on the website are owned by their respective owners who will be responsible for any controversy that may arise regarding the same. The provider has been dully authorised to use them by their owners.

The provider acknowledges the title holders' intellectual property rights. The fact that non-proprietary content is featured on the website does not imply the existence of rights or liabilities for the provider, or sponsorship, support or recommendation regarding the same.

For comments regarding non-compliance with intellectual property rights, or regarding website contents, please use the following email address: ffg@laic.org.

GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

All controversies or issues pertaining to the website or to issues related to this website or activities developed herein will be governed by the Spanish legislation. Both parties surrender expressly to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts and Tribunals which will settle all conflicts derived or related to the use of this website.